

CLASS PARTIES

Four class parties per year are allowed. While birthday parties for students are enjoyable, it is very difficult to celebrate the birthdays of all students. We encourage parents to have parties for their children somewhere other than school. Occasionally, students want to invite students to non-school sponsored parties and wish to hand out their invitations at school. This process causes a variety of problems. One nice way to honor a child's birthday at school is to donate a special book to the child's classroom. It can be read to the entire class and then entered into the classroom reading materials. Birthdays will be announced during the morning announcements and students will receive a birthday book from the school.
